THE WEIGHT EUSTÁQUIO CARRIED.

Canada's quiet midfielder won them a World Cup knockout tie today. Almost no one watching knew what he had carried to get there.

A 7-part breakdown

0101 / 07

| 92ND MINUTE. THE LAST KICK.

Today Stephen Eustáquio won Canada their first goal in a World Cup knockout tie. Almost no one in the stadium knew he had buried both his parents inside a year.

0202 / 07

| LEAMINGTON TO PORTUGAL.

Born in Leamington, Ontario. Moved to Portugal at seven. He chose Canada in 2019 and now vice-captains the side.

0303 / 07

| HOW HE PLAYS.

Canada's midfield metronome. A deep-lying playmaker who sets the tempo and screens the back line, 85% passing at Porto, the calm that lets David and Davies push higher up.

0404 / 07

| APRIL 2023.

His mother, Esmeralda, had brain cancer. He learned she had died during a Porto match and came off after 56 minutes. She was 51.

0505 / 07

| APRIL 2024.

A year later his father, Armando, died of a heart attack. He kept playing.

0606 / 07

| 90+2.

Today against South Africa a clearance dropped at the top of the box. He buried it. 1-0, and Canada are into the Round of 16.
